

Nothing Is Better Than You

Nothing is better than you
Nothing is better than you
Nothing is better than you
Nothing, honey, is better than you.

Since you've been gone
I rent a movie
Bring it home, and lo, it meets with
Unanimous approval

Settle down in the beanbag
Who needs furniture?
Consider it a simple case of Urban removal.

Reach for my beer
It's right where I left it
A little stale but that's OK
It reminds me of you.

Don't worry dear
This song's not about you
I can't resist a clever line
Even if it isn't true.

Nothing is better than you, my darling
Nothing, honey, is better than you
I used to think you were better than nothing
But nothing turned out to be better
Than you.
